

CLC's Counseling Services

One of the advantages of attending the College of Lake County will be the wide range of counseling services designed to help students establish their goals and work toward them. This concern for the individual student is often lost on the larger college campus, but CLC is placing strong emphasis on its counseling services for students, according to Dr. Russell Boyer, Dean of Student Services.

Dr. Boyer is now in the process of recruiting qualified counselors to join the CLC faculty. He explained that after a student is admitted to the College, he will be given a pre-enrollment interview with a counselor to help him consider his high school record, his test results, his interests and his aptitudes.

"We are hoping to have a limited counseling service available in the next several weeks. We feel it is important that students have an opportunity to discuss their questions with the counselor, and through his exchange, establish educational goals and plan a program of study," said Dr. Boyer. Adjustment to the responsibilities of college is often difficult for the student, Dr. Boyer explained. With a comprehensive counseling and advisement program, counselors and faculty can assist students in overcoming these problems.

"We believe the success of the entire experience is dependent on the adjustment the student makes during the first weeks of college. With professionally trained personnel, we are sure we can help many students succeed who might otherwise fail. This is particularly true for the student who is less mature at the time he enters college as well as the student who is not properly prepared emotionally or academically."

To prepare these students for participation in the full college experience, CLC will provide Developmental Services. This program will provide certain students with special courses and preparatory experiences, as well as indepth counseling, to enable them to participate in regular college programs.

Dr. Boyer explained that Counselors will be prepared to assist the student in examining his educational objectives and career choice, as well as discuss any problems of a social or personal nature which might interfere with his academic progress. When appropriate, the Counselor will be able to suggest a variety of tests and inventories as aids in educational and career planning, he said.

"We will also have counseling services available to persons who desire assistance in developing better study skills, satisfactory personal and social relationships, and in selecting a transfer institution at the appropriate time. However, it will remain the responsibility of the student to meet requirements for graduation and transfer to other colleges."

To head the program of Developmental Services, CLC has added Dr. Katherine Barnes, school psychologist at North Chicago Community High School since 1956. Dr. Barnes, working closely with other departments at CLC, will seek to establish programs to fill the unique needs of students from varied backgrounds in the District. Dr. Barnes will establish a course of study and experiences aimed at making

Village Gets Three Offers For Building

Three offers, the highest $21,275, have been made for the old Antioch jail and police station at 875 Main St. The bids are being studied by the police and building committees of the Antioch Village Board.

The highest bid Monday night was made by Russell W. Nelson, 4417 N. Merrimac Ave., Chicago. Others were $17,500 from Bruno Starr, a lawyer at 33 N. LaSalle St., Chicago, and $17,625 from John Teresi, whose automobile showrooms adjoin the old station. Mayor Raymond Toft said he thought the offers were satisfactory but said the decision will be up to the committee members and board.

The board approved of purchase of a tractor-type mower from Dedersen Brothers Implement Co., rural Antioch, the low bidder, at $5,438. Stewart Olson's bid was $5,475.

Liberty Asphalt of Grayslake was awarded the contract for blacktopping the village's parking lot on the east side of Main Street. The cost will be $4,188.67. Trustee Robert Wilton explained the project was let without bids because it had been found in the past it was easier to handle such a project that way. The work will be done contingent on the village being able to renew a 5-year lease on the property.

Public Works Superintendent Edgar Simonsen announced he is drawing up a list of streets for seal-coating this summer.

The board approved of making alleys running off of Main Street one-way, a suggestion of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce.

Alleys east of Main Street will be one-way eastbound and alleys west of Main street will be one-way westbound. Police Chief Jack Davis will erect signs to effect the new traffic pattern.

The board also approved of banning parking on the south side of Park Avenue between Main Street and the Soo Line tracks, a distance of about 500 feet.

Village Engineer Frank Angelotti was instructed to draw up plans for a sanitary sewer improvement to eliminate flooding in an area on the south side of the village. He estimated the cost at $20,000.

Mayor Toft said the problem results from water backing up from a lift station.

"Everything we're putting in now will allow the village to grow," said Angelotti. He said part of the problem in the past has been that too-small pipe was installed.

Angelotti said the village experienced very little trouble during the recent rains from the storm sewers and only a little from sanitary sewers.

A variation in the zoning ordinance involving the sidetot requirement in a R-5, multi-unit area, was approved for property at 780 Main St.

The board also approved of: ... Changing the meeting night to the first and third Mondays of each month.

... Allowing expenses for Police Chief Jack Davis and City Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz to attend training sessions.

Davis will attend a two-week course on juvenile delinquency Oct. 6-17 at Rolling Meadows. Mrs. Sterbenz will go to a conference in Springfield for new municipal officials June 22.

... Authorizing the water department to shut off service to users whose bills are three quarters overdue.

... Approved of paying two men $3 for each dog they round up.

... Send letters to state legislators urging them to support House Bills 450 and 946 and to oppose House Bill 435. HB 450 would provide for municipal say-so in the expenditure of 25 per cent of motor fuel tax funds.

funds whose use the state now regulates. HB 946 would reduce from 4 per cent to 2 per cent the state charge for collecting municipal sales taxes.

HB 435 would reduce a municipality's share of the MFT.

AARP To Hold Final Meeting

Antioch Area Chapter, No. 387, of the AARP will hold their last business meeting on Tuesday, June 24, 1969, then followed by a two months summer vacation with the first meeting on Sept. 9th, at which time the newly elected 1969-70 officers will be installed.

The meeting on Tuesday will start with a visit by Dr. C. M. Solar, Pediatrician, with offices now located south on Rte. 83.

Dr. Solar will give a short talk on the care of feet at the start of the meeting at 12:30, followed by coffee and cake and then go into the regular business of the chapter, it being the annual meeting whereby election of 1969-70 officers will be held.

President John L. Horan called attention to the recent rumor being circulated, that the chapter when it has reached 150 members, the membership would be closed.

There has been no action taken on the rumor, therefore any and all elderly citizens at the age of 55 and up can feel free to join.

We welcome you one and all, male or female.

SS Number Is Needed For License

Incorrect social security numbers shown on driver's license applications will result in the return of the applications to the applicants for correction, Secretary of State Paul Powell said today.

The social security system has provided the Secretary of State's office with the means to check the validity of the numbers submitted, and at present from 600 to 800 applications for driver's licenses are being returned each day because the numbers are incorrect.

IBM Lease Increased By Board

Lake County's data processing department has been authorized by the Board of Supervisors to enter into a lease agreement with International Business Machines Corp. for rental of a more sophisticated computer system.

Called the Model 360/25, the new installation will more than double the output of the 360/20 which is now in use. The newer computer can handle two programs simultaneously and is expected to curtail overtime in the department.

Supervisor Ronald Coles of Lake Villa Township, chairman of the Board's data processing committee, said originally the committee discussed purchase of a computer. However, Coles told the Board that based upon its investigation of increased work load and obsolescence of equipment over short periods of time it was decided that rental would be more economical in the long run. The Model 360/25 will be rented for $9,900 per month compared to $6,317 for the 360/20. Total annual expenditures for rental of the new equipment will run about $42,000 more than current figures.

County To Sell 11 Acres

The county is going to advertise for bids on 11 acres of land adjacent to the Nike site along Lake-Cook Road. Though some supervisors questioned disposing of the property, the resolution passed by a vote of 26 to 8.

Board Chairman Robert W. Depke said the eleven acres is separate from the rest of the site and is of no real value to the County. Several old buildings on the land have been damaged by vandals and it would cost more than it's worth to make the structures vandal-proof.

A minimum of $5,000 per acre will be sought in the bids, which would bring back more than the original cost of the Nike site. The County paid $31,000 for the entire 25 acres which it was purchased from the federal government.

The Board acted on several other resolutions. Among them were: authorization to buy the service station on the northwest corner of Washington and Ulica streets from Standard Oil Co. for $85,000, to be used for service and light maintenance of sheriff's squad cars; one to discontinue interdepartmental charges for services within the County General Fund and the fee-earning offices; memorial resolution for the late Philip W. It was on the basis of John Bonner's achievements as a 4-H member, and his achievements at Iowa State College, where he earned a bachelor of science degree in dairy science, and a Master's degree in Animal Production, which merited his selection as an IFYE delegate.

This marks the first time that Lake County has ever had an International Farm Youth Exchange Delegate to another country. Several Lake County farm families have served as host families to delegates from other countries.

Helen Osmond Donates Land To Village

Mayor Raymond Toft announced Monday night that a two-acre site has been donated to the city for recreational use.

The land was given by Helen Osmond as a memorial to the late Lester J. Osmond, the mayor said.

Toft said he had looked over the land near View Court Valley and felt it would be suitable for such uses as an ice-skating rink. He said it might be possible to secure adjoining land for a larger park.

He said a path for pedestrian or bicycle traffic would be put in but no road was planned.

Needed Revenue

The Chain 'O Lakes may get some long needed state aid if a bill presently in the Illinois Legislature gets favorable approval.

We certainly hope that our area lawmakers push for the measure which would give $84,000 a month to the Division of Waterways.

The money would be used for much needed repairs and maintenance of channels and related facilities for the accomodation of recreational navigation in Illinois waterways.

The bill was introduced by 31st District John Matijevich, D-North Chicago, who has long been in sympathy with the Chain area and is one of the few legislators, besides Rep. W. J. (Bill) Murphy that has made it his business to know the Chain's problems.

Handling the bill in the Senate will be Sen. Karl I. Berning, R-Deerfield, another Lake County lawmaker.

The measure would bring back to the lakes the money that is spent in boating activities and would not be a drain on motor fuel tax revenues derived by automobiles, trucks and the like.

We give Rep. Matijevich a pat on the back for maneuvering the measure through the House after being able to get it on the floor and out of committee by a 13-2 vote.

At the present time only 50 per cent of the revenue generated by boating enthusiasts goes to the maintenance of the lakes and channels.

A look at the lakes will tell you that much more is needed.

Sensible Approach

Have you let those predictions of traffic deaths scare you off the highways on holiday weekends?

We did, too, until we learned that the scare techniques used in holiday traffic safety campaigns have little basis in fact.

The Chicago Motor Club — AAA says that startling highway fatality predictions can be made for nearly any weekend.

The CMA-AAA points out that the emphasis on holiday death counts does nothing to promote traffic safety, but instead adds to the worries of the average driver and discourages many from enjoying a holiday trip by auto.

The CMC-AAA is advocating a positive approach to safe travel filled holidays, a campaign called "Bring 'Em Back Alive."

The campaign is stretching across the United States and Canada and the program stresses wider observance of common sense rules of good driving.

While "Bring 'Em Back Alive" is primarily aimed at the motoring public, it does not pass over the concern for pedestrian safety. Pedestrians who annually add to fatality counts, must share equally with motorists in responsibility for traffic safety.

The campaign strikes us as a sensible approach to holiday highway safety on a number of counts: it encourages the individual travel that is economically healthy for the state; it takes into consideration our need for recreational outlets and our desire to travel about in our free time; and it calls on all of us to be totally responsible for ourselves and others on the highway.

If each of us, when driving, is a little more courteous, a little more careful, knows a little more about safe driving practices, then each driver also has a better chance to "Bring 'Em Back Alive."

Your Congressman Reports.....

By Conig. Robert McClary

President Nixon has announced a wholly new approach to foreign aid. In requesting the smallest appropriation in the history of this program, the President, at the same time, has urged legislation to enable private enterprise to handle a far greater share of foreign aid in the developing nations.

The Nixon policy recognizes these basic truths: a) Developing nations benefit only from foreign aid programs which encourage them to help themselves; b) multi-national programs are superior to single nation efforts and c) private enterprise generally accomplishes far greater results than can government.

This new policy relating to foreign aid will probably be accompanied by a reduction in the staffs of some of our overseas embassies and missions. Again, the purpose of this move will be to minimize our presence, and to encourage a more active involvement of the governments and business communities in the developing nations. This enlightened change in policy demonstrates that several simple messages have finally, seeped through, namely (1) that people will not help themselves as long as someone else is assuming their responsibilities, and (2) that the "big brother" attitude that has characterized American foreign aid in the past frequently produces antipathy and resentment.

The program of private enterprise assistance abroad calls for legislation to create an Overseas Private Investment Corporation, and the appropriation of $75 million to serve as a revolving fund to guarantee capital investments. This private enterprise effort does not necessarily mean the transfer of American dollars to foreign countries. American concerns are able frequently to finance foreign operations through use of local currencies or credits available in other countries.

President Nixon also has urged "strong new emphasis on technical assistance". After recommending that one-fifth of the total foreign aid funds be placed in this category, the President declared that technical assistance "includes the adaptation of U.S. technical knowledge to the special needs of poor countries, the training of their people in modern skills. . . . These funds will be concentrated in areas of agriculture, education, and family planning.

With a smaller foreign aid budget than that offered last year by President Johnson, it is to be hoped nevertheless that the Nixon program will result in increased benefits to the developing nations.

Behind every foreign aid program is the underlying hope that improved relations between our country and the other nations of the world may ensue. This hope was never more eloquently expressed than in the foreign aid message of President Nixon. In the President's own words: "foreign aid must be viewed as an integral part of our overall effort to achieve a world order of peace and justice."

A basic law of nature has always been work or starve. The expanding U.S. Welfare State has, in effect, promised its repeal. But already, signs are appearing that removal of this stern dictate may have its drawbacks, particularly for the remaining workers who must pay the price of repeal.

LT. GOV. PAUL SIMON

A Dangerous Bond Issue Proposal

Illinois faces a serious road situation, and Governor Richard Ogilvie has called for a series of taxes to meet the need.

Because of the headlines about the 2½ cent requested increase in the gasoline tax, little attention was paid to another feature: a call for a massive bond issue of $250 million per year for a 10-year period to building additional highways.

This means at the end of the period an indebtedness of two and one-half billion dollars.

About a decade ago, the President suggested to Congress that there be a national bond issue for the federal highway system, but Senator Albert Gore of Tennessee put up a valiant fight for a pay-as-you-go plan. Fortunately for the nation, Senator Gore won, and the nation is not saddled with paying gasoline taxes for interest.

Interest on an indebtedness of two and one-half billion dollars is $150 million a year, calculated at the rate of 6%.

This is equivalent to 3½ cents per gallon tax—solely for interest—if the state gets all the money from the tax (and not goes to local government). Under the present formula, it would take more than 7½ cents per gallon to pay the interest.

The advantage of such a system is that it gets roads built now, quickly. Because of the rising costs of construction, it gets many of them built more economically.

But hopefully serious study will be made to alternatives.

The other practical "advantage" is, of course, that the roads get built now and someone else pays for them later on. That has some political pluses, but there is serious question whether this is in the long-range public interest.

Going the route of issuing bonds is a little like walking into quicksand: the more you go into it, the deeper you get, and it's extremely difficult ever to change such a pattern.

Make no mistake about it. The proposal to issue bonds is a major change in the Illinois highway concept. It is a road of no return.

If you want your gasoline taxes to go for building roads rather than paying interest, you had better take a good, hard look at the current proposal.

Methodist Conference Passes Budget

A nearly unanimous vote of lay and ministerial delegates passed a record budget for 1970, totaling $3,770,968. It is a rise of 2.2 per cent over last year's budget set for the 462 United Methodist churches in the Northern 19 counties of the state.

Largest item is for the church's benevolence program ($1,775,980) here and overseas. This covers 62 categories, including such sectors as overseas mission work in 52 countries, Chicago and Rockford mission programs, the four camps at Naperville, Freeport, Dixon and Williams Bay, Wis., student work on nine college campuses, a dozen social service projects, etc.

The second largest figure is Ministerial Support ($1,004,800), which includes pensions, health and life insurance for clergy, salaries of district superintendents, finance officials and conference program coordinator and his staff as the major items in this division.

Powell Honored By State Vets

Secretary of State Paul Powell was honored recently in Springfield at a testimonial dinner sponsored jointly by the 15 major Illinois veterans organizations. Although not a veteran, the group in honoring Illinois' Secretary of State, did so in recognition of 35 years of outstanding public service to the State of Illinois and to the veteran population.

The honoree was also the main speaker of the event, and Powell talked about the American society of 1969. Powell told the assembled veterans "If the American experience demonstrates any great truth, it is that the true and lawful purpose of this continuing revolution we call democracy, can only be achieved through a lawful society, which is to say, a society built upon mutual respect of its citizens for the rights of all."

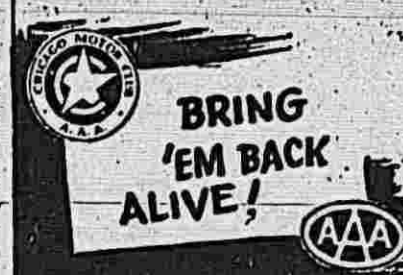

In referring to current campus riots, Powell said "What these groups, who have been demonstrating on the campuses, at political rallies and on the streets are doing is practicing the law of self-will, not the laws of democracy. In a free society with free speech, peaceful assembly, a free press and secret ballot, anyone who acts to hinder others from using these rights is undermining everyone's freedom, including his own."

The dinner, held at the St. Nicholas Hotel, was attended by members of veterans groups from all over the state of Illinois.

In the Responsive Reading, taken from Job, one verse asks: "Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth?"

A correlative passage from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy reads: "The universe, like man, is to be interpreted by Science from its divine Principle, God, and then it can be understood; but when explained on the basis of physical sense and represented as subject to growth, maturity, and decay, the universe, like man, is, and must continue to be, an enigma."

Services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, BEACON HILL, Rte. 173 and Harden, Antioch, Illinois, begin at 11 A.M. All are welcome.

4-H Clubbers Practice What They Preach

Four-H Club members literally practice what they preach. As a matter of fact, they practice and practice until they are good enough to compete in county and state-wide public speaking contests.

Coached and encouraged by local volunteer 4-H leaders, boys and girls from 10 years of age on up through their teens are developing into fine speakers, according to David F. Smith, McHenry County Assistant Extension Adviser, who supervises the work.

Among platform tips offered by the youthful speaker trainees are: (1) If you are nervous, breathe deeply several times just before you are introduced; relax, limber up. (2) Smile, and look alive. (3) Stand quietly erect; gesture naturally or not at all. (4) Talk to your audience as you would to one individual. (5) Be specific, honest, friendly. (6) Be sure you understand your subject thoroughly. (7) Show quickly how your topic concerns your audience. (8) Never talk about stopping. STOP.

Dedicate New Chapel On Saturday

Rev. Aymond W. Anderson, Executive Secretary of the Midwest Baptist Conference, and the Rev. George A. Rice, Chairman of the Camp and Chapel Committee of Camp Hickory, announce the dedication service of a new chapel at its camp grounds, Camp Hickory, Nippersink and Wilson Roads, Round Lake.

Camp Hickory's 47 acres were purchased in 1945 at a cost of $15,000. Since then many new buildings—such as a swimming pool, dining hall, heated cabins, infirmary, etc.—have been built to meet the needs of boys and girls, young people and adults from the Midwest area. Their concern is in the areas of the spiritual because camp answers the basic human desire for response, socially camp answers the desire of recognition and security, and physically and mentally it answers the desire for a new experience. The Midwest Conference has a total of 63 churches which support this work.

A special tribute will be given to those who founded this work 24 years ago.

The Dedication service will be on the camp grounds at 2:00 p.m., Saturday, June 21, 1969. Participating in the program will be the Honorable Richard B. Ogilvie, Governor, State of Illinois, and the Honorable John B. Anderson, Congressman, Rockford, Ill. Introducing the Governor will be the Rev. George A. Rice, Chairman of the Camp and Chapel Committee. Introducing Congressman Anderson will be Alderman Dennis Johnson, Rockford. Special music will be presented by Mayor Ernest Miller, Territorial Music Secretary, Salvation Army.

The Dedication Remarks will be made by Rev. L. Ted Johnson, Director of Camping at the Baptist General Conference, with the Dedication Prayer by Rev. Aymond W. Anderson. The Master of Ceremonies will be Rev. David Brown, Chairman of the Christian Education Board of the Midwest Baptist Conference.

Prior to the Dedication Service there will be a reception of Gov. and Mrs. Ogilvie, and Cong. and Mrs. Anderson at the Baxter Research Laboratories, Rte. 120 and Wilson Rd. (one-half mile north of Route 120), Round Lake, at 12:00 noon.

Coho Hit Bright Lures!

By Tom Andrews

Coho! That word has ignited the fervor of Midwestern fishermen like few others in the history of mid-America sport fishing.

Since transplantation from its native Pacific Ocean waters, the coho has wasted little time in staking claim to the title of "King of the Lake."

Talk to anyone who's tied into one of these gamblers (thousands already have) and they'll quickly tell you about the coho's fighting spirit—how it tail-walks, and performs aerial acrobatics with the best of freshwater fighters.

Reports indicate that coho have consistently been taken on bright, flashy spoons and spinners. In spring coho schools travel the southern end of the Lake, providing action from around Racine, Wisconsin, down through Chicago and on up to Benton Harbor, Michigan.

With the advent of warmer temperatures around the middle of June, the coho begin migrating out into deeper waters where it's cooler. In July and August they start moving toward spawning areas on the north Michigan shoreline.

Luck so far has been with fishermen working from piers, docks, breakwaters, and river banks at depths of 2 to 5 ft. However, one of the most productive methods for taking coho, particularly in mid-summer, has been trolling at depths of from 10 to 20 ft.

The important thing is to offer the type of lure that has already proved extremely effective. One bright, flashing lure that has coho-tempting action is the Johnson Silver Minnow, long a favorite for most fishing and one which has accounted for thousands of coho. The Johnson Silver Minnow is a simple, easy to cast because of their shape—a boon to anglers on piers, docks, and shoreline beaches. They can also be trolled, if line weights are used, without losing their enticing wobble.

Brightly-finished spoons and lures resemble a swimming minnow. And the alewife, which abounds in Lake Michigan, is the coho's principal source of food.

Most coho have been caught inshore in the early morning hours before they move to deeper water, or at dusk.

If you haven't already given the coho in your area a try, now may be the time to get acquainted. No boat? Then get up early and fish a flashy, bright lure from shore, pier or breakwater. If you want to try fishing from a boat, use one that's big enough to cope with the Lake's moods.

However, you fish for them, once you've hooked your first one, you're slated to become another avid "coho convert."

Salem Takes Five Firsts In Track

Salem Consolidated Grade School competed recently in the Westosha Track Conference and walked off with 5 first places, 3 seconds, 4 thirds, a fourth and 2 fifths.

Those competing and the order of their finish included:

Red Cross Urges 'Learn To Swim'

You're thinking of buying a boat. Or perhaps it would be fun to have a swimming pool in your own backyard. But before you do either, do your kids know how to swim?

If not, the American Red Cross is cooperating with a number of other agencies to conduct swimming classes throughout Chicago.

Qualified Red Cross instructors will hold classes this summer at more than 200 pools in the city and suburbs.

To enroll your youngster between 8 and 18 call the swimming pool in your neighborhood. When your child participates in the learn-to-swim class, he will first be tested for his swimming ability and then placed with the group at that level. He'll stay with the group until he masters a specific skill, breathing while swimming or the back float. Then, he'll move on to another group and skill. Records are kept showing each individual's progress, and those who complete the course successfully receive a Red Cross Certificate and button.

If you would rather teach your child to swim yourself, Red Cross has an excellent guide for you called Teaching Johnny to Swim ($2.50). This booklet, and another, Red Cross Swimming and Water Safety ($1.00), are available from the Water Safety Department of your nearest Red Cross office.

Hurry and make sure your child knows how to swim this summer. The Red Cross notes that 65 percent of last year's drowning victims were under 18 years of age. This year don't let your child be part of the statistics.

Countdown Near For Shoot Teams

The countdown to the Final Tryouts for selection of the U.S. World Moving Target Team neared its climax this month as invitations were sent out from headquarters of the National Rifle Association to several hundred qualifiers.

The Final Tryouts are scheduled to be held at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, and the International Gun Club of San Antonio, Texas, during the period July 11 through July 20.

Competitors will be vying for positions on one of three teams—Running Boar, International Skeet and Clay Pigeon. Four firs will be selected for each squad.

All entries will fire a full course on three successive days with total score used to determine the four team members.

Skeet will be the first event with 100 birds each day July 11 through July 13. This will be followed by Running Boar, July 16-18, with a 60-shot course scheduled each day. International Clay Pigeon July 18-20, with 100 birds daily will wind up the eliminations.

Lackland will be the site of the Running Boar and the shotgun events will be at the civilian gun club.

The U. S. Running Boar team will fire in the World Moving Target Championships at Sandviken, Sweden, August 23-25. The shotgun teams will compete in the championships to be staged at Madrid, Spain, October 15-30.

The World Championships will consist of both individual and team events. NRA officials believe that they will have nearly as many candidates for the teams this year as sought places on the U. S. Olympic Shooting Team in 1968.

The 60-shot Running Boar competition consists of six 10-shot strings. The first three are fired at what is known as a normal run. The figure of the boar is visible downrange for five seconds. The final 30 shots are taken during the fast run phase. The target is in view only 2.5 seconds. Competitors fire from a shooting house and the distance is 50 meters.

The last World Moving Target Championships were held in Italy in 1967.

Dodd Wins At Wilmot

Wilmot, Wis.—Jr. Dodd of Waukegan blew an engine at the Rockford Speedway's modified stock car racing on Friday night, June 13. He and his crew worked without rest Friday night and through Saturday putting together another engine.

They had to use odds and ends from several engines to get the work completed in time for the IRA races at Wilmot, but their efforts were well rewarded as Dodd got his first win of the season in the 30 lap modified stock car feature.

Bill Bohn of Kenosha chased him close throughout the distance and through a restart but couldn't move by for the lead.

Dodd also won the third heat race after a tough battle through traffic. Point leader Roger Otto of Burlington won his heat and finished third in the feature. He too had a breakdown at Rockford. Claude Potter, whose car was burned in a garage fire recently, also had trouble at Rockford and could not compete, but Saturday night he too was running and won the semi-feature race and a heat race.

Ron Fryer of Milwaukee won the sportsman's feature and Norb Birsack and Tom Teske won heat races.

The Showdown Race for engine performance in the modifieds ended as it started. Two Chevies were matched against the Pontiac of Roger Otto and the Plymouth of Ron Bergsma. The Chevies ended up one and two with Otto's Pontiac third and Bergsma fourth off his usual fast pace.

Next weekend the modifieds will again start the weekend of racing at Rockford on Friday, run Wilmot on Saturday and Lake Geneva on Sunday.

North Stars Intramural Champions

The North Stars beat the Bruins in the Salem Intramural Baseball Championship 10 to 9. Both teams reached through league play with a 5 and 1 mark and split the two games they played. The North Stars opened the game up as they scored three runs in the first on two hits and three errors. The Bruins came right back, as they scored four runs in the top of the second on three hits, a walk and an error.

The Bruins continued to score as they scored 2 in the third, and 3 in the fourth with big hits being provided by Greenstreet, McAlister and Klemp. The North Stars started battling back as they scored single runs in the fourth and fifth.

While the North Stars were rallying in the late innings, Ciskowski limited the Bruins to two hits in the last four frames. In the sixth, the North Stars scored two runs to cut the Bruins' lead to 9 to 7. The North Stars came up with the winning runs in the bottom of the seventh on four hits, with the key hits being provided by Jacobsen and Plants.

Martinelli Barred From Track

Ray Young won a controversial feature race at the Waukegan Speedway Sunday night. Reno Martinelli, owner of both Erik Johnson's and Bill Shoulders' race cars, was barred for two weeks from the Waukegan Speedway as the result of a fight midway through the feature race.

Although neither of the cars are barred, it is questionable if they will return without their famous owner. Johnson was leading in the 12th lap when Ed Pensalek tried to roll his stalled car from the top of the track to the infield in the third turn.

Johnson tried to squeeze inside and struck the powerless car, severely damaging his own car. He was also hit from behind by Young. Johnson jumped from the car as the race was stopped and eventually threw his helmet at Pensalek and then walked over to have a few words.

There was some pushing and shoving, but things were pretty well under control when Martinelli left the pits. The track security officers and all the track officials were called to stop the melee that followed. The scrap that followed included Martinelli jumping through the windshield of Pensalek's Dodge Charger.

Burgan was the night's only double winner, taking both the dash and fast heat.

DRIVING FOR TRAFFIC SAFETY

by Paul Powell
Secretary of State

Do you come to a screeching halt at a stop sign or red light and stare the wadding out of any stray pedestrian attempting to cross the street, or any stray passenger who may have nerve enough to ride with you? "Corner Screechers" are asking for trouble. What if your brakes failed? Or you overshot the corner? Or the guy behind you was also a "corner screecher", and he thinks you are going on through, perhaps on the yellow!

Pedestrians attempting to cross the street have the right-of-way. They or other motorists approaching the intersection, wonder whether you are going to grant them the right-of-way as you should. In their uncertainty, they may become confused and do something which will cause an accident. You know you are going to stop, but do those around you?

The proper method of approaching an intersection is to slow down well back from the intersection and come to a gradual, gentle stop. This is much easier on your brakes, tires and both your nerves and those of the pedestrian or your fellow motorists. Don't keep anyone guessing when you're on the road.

For a copy of "Rules of the Road", write to Paul Powell, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois 62706.

Don't Mention It!

The Isle, Minn., Messenger tells it as it is. "... according to the U.S. Post Office, it's a 'No, No' for the newspapers to mention or advertise in any way a raffle, bingo or any other type of lottery—even though it's a fund raising event for a nonprofit organization or for a good cause. In fact—a newspaper that fails to comply with this ruling can lose its mailing permit! I'm sure that I don't need to mention that I have a hard time understanding the Post Office's reasoning in this matter, since I am of the belief that most editors are quite qualified to use sound judgment in determining whether a raffle is for a good cause or not—and whether the public will be hurt by advertising the same. ... Such fund raising drives happen every day—and this doesn't seem to concern Uncle too much—but to let anyone know that they're happening is the 'No, No'. So—now you know why such events (important to a small community) do not receive any publicity in the paper."

The Messenger failed to mention "door prizes", which also come under the "No, No", if a person has to buy a ticket to be eligible for the prize.

Johnson Winner In 100

Cold, cloudy weather hung over the Waukegan Speedway Saturday night, but another large field of cars was on hand for the 100 lap championship race. Erik Johnson continued his domination of the long distance events as he won his second 100 lap race at Waukegan.

Once again all of the top names in late model short track racing in the area assembled at the Waukegan Speedway. Fifty-six cars qualified in light sprinkles for the events.

The 22 car feature found Jim Cossman and Ted Janecyk on the front row and Cossman took the lead on the first lap with Bob Roper moving into second and Janecyk in third spot. By the fourth lap Bill Shoulders had charged up from 11th starting spot to second and he set out for Cossman.

In the seventh lap Shoulders moved past Cossman for the lead. Two laps later Jerry Welsh held second spot with Johnson third and Cossman fourth. Johnson raced into second place on the thirteenth lap.

The yellow flag came out for 11 laps when Dave Lundgren and Herb Artelt craved together into the first turn wall after Lundgren blew a tire. When the green came out Shoulders dropped to third with Johnson in the lead and Welsh second. Running fourth was fastest qualifier Bud Koehler with point leader Ray Young right behind in fifth.

Young squeezed by Koehler in the 37th lap for third spot and ten laps later Young passed Welsh for second position. In the 65th lap the caution was displayed when Frank Cabrera and Dave Evans hit the second turn wall. Johnson maintained a quarter lap lead over Young for the remainder of the race. The race for third money was close in the closing laps among Welsh, Roper, Harry Simonsen, Bob May and Bill McEnery who finished in that order.

Johnson received the trophy from G. L. Miller Dodge for his second 100 lap win at Waukegan. Johnson drives, the Martinelli Brothers Chevelle from Half Day. The semi-feature event was led by veteran Jim Luther for five laps before Willie Winchester pushed his Javelin into the lead. At the end of the race John Spatola of Woodale flipped his Chevelle hard, but he was unhurt.

Thrill Show Set For Waukegan

Flying through space will be the feature when the Joie Chitwood Thrill Show returns to the Waukegan Speedway Wednesday night, June 25. In one case a 1969 Camaro will be shot out of a cannon through space to another ramp, a motorcycle will leap over three parked cars and an older model will dive off a ramp in the famous "T-Bone crash."

The 1969 version of the world-famous thrill will mark the 26th tour of the thrill circus. The last two years' scheduled performances at the Waukegan oval have been cancelled by rain. This year Thursday night, June 26, will be used as a raindate if necessary.

The Chitwood Thrill Show is prepared to be entertaining for the whole family with both breathtaking precision driving, hair-raising calculated crashes plus humorous clown antics all part of the show.

The program will begin at 8 p.m. at Waukegan. The Speedway is located ½ mile east of Rt. 41 on Washington Street near Waukegan. The track has a 24-hour answering service at 662-8200 which should be checked in case of inclement weather.

The Speedway will also have late model stock car racing on both Saturday and Sunday nights.

My Neighbors

"Look at 'em scurry about—everyone a potential ulcer patient."

Try dark spoon in hot weather

By Tom Andrews

Hot-weather fishing can discourage even the old-timers. Why not take a tip from Southern anglers who have a knack for catching some good-sized fish even when the summer sun simmers streams and lakes. These smart fishermen have learned from experience that dark baits, fish-ed very slowly, can often encourage strikes when all else fails.

I've found myself that the most successful combination of dark artificials for all-day fishing in weather that Northerners generally consider too hot is a purple spoon with a purple pork, black eel or blue worm trailer. You can troll this combination at a dead-slow speed—but I'd recommend that you anchor in some likely spot and try casting.

Since you must retrieve ever so slowly, it's essential that your spoon have exciting action that is apparent even when its forward progress is at a snail's pace. My choice is a Purple Minnow—which is basically a Johnson Silver Minnow with a purple-dyed lacquer as its final finish coat. The high-gloss silver underlying the purple gives this spoon a lively sheen and high visibility. And a couple of generations of fishermen can attest to the excellent swimming action of the Silver Minnow at any speed.

Always let the dark-spoon-and-trailer combination sink to the bottom and lie still for several seconds before beginning your retrieve. Reel in very, very slowly until the lure has traveled just a few feet, then let it sink back for a few seconds. Then repeat until you've completed the retrieve.

If you get no action after a great many casts, switch to a Silver Minnow but keep the dark trailer. You may be over a mud bottom, in which case the lighter spoon color will draw attention to itself and the trailer.

And here's a good tip: Be alert to gentle tugs that indicate a fish has taken the trailer but not the spoon. Slack-off slightly to let him "chew" before completing the strike.

Crime Rate Increasing In The U.S.

What's happening in the "land of the free, home of the brave"? A growing disrespect in America for law and order. You've suspected this for some time, but now the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce can supply you with proof:

- Crime is increasing seven times our rate of increase in population.
- One-third of a representative sample of all Americans say it is unsafe to walk alone at night in their neighborhoods.
- More than one-third say they keep firearms in the house for protection against criminals. Today there are more guns (200 million) in private hands than there are in all our military and police forces combined.
- Twenty-eight per cent say they keep watchdogs for the same reasons.
- If the present trend continues, 40 per cent of all male citizens now living in the U. S. will be arrested for non-traffic offenses during their lives.
- One boy in six is referred to the juvenile court.
- Although the 15 to 17 age group represents only 5.4 per cent of the population, it accounts for 12.8 per cent of all arrests.
- In 1967 alone, riots in our cities cost 117 lives and $1 billion.
- Well over two million Americans went to prison or juvenile institutions, or were placed on probation last year.
- Crime costs business $5 billion during a recent year. The figure does not include the costs of riots and organized crime.

The situation is grim but not yet hopeless. Each of us—as parent and as citizen, can help stem this rising tide of crime, delinquency, vandalism and riots in our communities. And here's a plan of action that tells how:

- Vote my convictions
- Take my family to church.
- Accept my community responsibilities.
- Discipline myself and my family.
- Speak out against selective adherence to our laws.
- Support local law enforcement authorities.
- Patronize businesses which believe in a fair and honest dollar.
- Become part of the vocal as well as the statistical majority.
- Accept the "bill of responsibilities," then claim our bill of rights.
- Back up words and thoughts with action.
- What can I do as a parent?
- Set the example.
- Know where my children are and what they are doing.
- Find out who their associates are.
- Encourage them to complete their education.
- Establish a climate in the home conducive to respect for law and order.
- Teach my children the difference between right and wrong.
- Don't always take their part in a conflict without determining the facts.
- Set aside some time just for them.

This is what you can do. Should you bother? There are some who say, "I'm just a little guy. I can't change the whole country."

Let's hope there aren't many with this attitude, because more than 200 years ago Jean Jacques Rousseau wrote: "As soon as any man says of the affairs of the state, 'What does it matter to me?' the state may be given up for lost."

We're not lost yet, but time may be running out... for all of us. It's up to you.

Bachelor of Arts Degree To Eberman
Roger A. Eberman, of Rt. 3, Antioch, has been awarded a bachelor of arts degree from Illinois Wesleyan University in ceremonies held June 8 at Bloomington.

Welfare has reached the point where government expenditures for needed public works, improved police protection and other necessary public services and projects are being deferred.

Public Aid Rolls High In March
Illinois public aid rolls reached 536,850 in March, an increase of 3,864 over the previous month and 49,249 higher than a year ago.

Public Aid Director Harold O. Swank said that increases in the aid to dependent children, disability assistance and old age assistance programs more than offset a decrease in general assistance. Blind assistance was unchanged.

Total March expenditures were $45,384,883, an increase of $3,091,675 over February and $11,208,045 over March 1968. The latest expenditures include $620,790 for foster care, assistance to the medically indigent in Chicago and Cicero, and burials, and $3,491,850 to the Department of Mental Health for needy, aged patients in state hospitals.

The March caseload included 405,183 persons on assistance to the aged, blind or disabled and aid to dependent children receiving money grants and eligible for medical care; 60,954 eligible for medical assistance only, and 71,613 on general assistance. Respective figures for February were 400,206; 58,644, and 74,136; for March 1968, 363,014; 51,622, and 72,968.

The 60,954 persons eligible for medical assistance only, up 1,410 over February, are included in the trends of the individual programs which follow. The March cost was $8,362,181.

The aid to dependent children program served 355,283 persons in March, an increase of 5,923 over February and 44,369 higher than in March 1968. Expenditures were $21,859,470 in February, an average of $61.53 per person; $21,129,959 in February, and $16,766,170 in March 1968.

Old age assistance helped 63,518 persons, 37 more than in February and 597 more than a year ago. Expenditures in March were $10,020,411, an average of $157.76; $8,085,687 in February, and $7,456,560 in March 1968.

Blind assistance numbered 1,999 persons in March, the same as the previous month and 77 less than a year ago. Expenditures were $271,496 in March, an average of $135.82 per person. $235,991 in February, and $236,050 a year ago.

The disability assistance program in March rose by 427 persons to 44,437. The March 1968 total was 38,724. Expenditures in March were $7,572,244, an average of $170.40 per person; $7,313,960 in February, and $5,368,446 in March 1968.

General assistance—all units—was received by 71,613 persons, down 2,523 from February and 1,353 below March 1968. Expenditures in March were $5,040,472, an average of $70.38 per person; $4,965,783 the previous month, and $4,083,729 a year ago.

"The country is suffering from an excess of tolerance regarding dangerous social changes. Instead of being 'understanding' of users of marijuana, or of campus lawbreakers, parents and other adult citizens should take a tough approach to behavioral problems. The President of the United States also has to be concerned with these behavioral problems, or the nation is threatened from within by those who want to destroy all the ancient rules of a decent society," from the Shelbyville, Ky., Sentinel.

Says the Dillon, S. C., Herald: "We are facing hot competition from foreign nations like Japan, which are moving into many American market areas with great selling success. And as our wages go up, and prices increase, our products are being priced out of the world market in many cases. Figures show that our trade surplus in 1968 was only $500 million, when it should have been three or four billions—using the past as a guide."

Dairymen To Fight Big Store Chains

ANTIGO, WIS. — Predicting most milk will be processed and sold by chain stores if present trends continue, A. L. McWilliams, general manager of Pure Milk Association, declared here that the best way for dairy farmers to cope with the market power of giant multi-market, multi-product supermarket processing is through a multi-market farmer organization.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Antigo Milk Products Cooperative, McWilliams said the regional organization currently being formed as American Milk Producers, Inc., can best provide dairy farmers with real market power and keep their business from becoming a branch of the chain store grocery business.

Around 30,000 dairy farmers in a region from Wisconsin and Minnesota to Texas have been trying to develop this single milk marketing organization with its vast market power potential and possibilities for improving their income, McWilliams pointed out.

The members of both the Antigo Milk Products Cooperative and Pure Milk Association are among the 30,000 farmers working for this merger.

"A chain grocery has no traditional interest in the dairy business," McWilliams said. "It would not hesitate to replace dairy products with imitations if the latter promised higher profits."

He declared that a large, regional merger of dairy farmers has far greater potential than a federated group for obtaining better prices for producers.

Commenting that some people had raised the question as to why co-ops with million-dollar investments should throw in with non-plant co-ops, he emphasized that the million-dollar investments are not earning the kind of money that the merger can earn.

"It is one of the sad facts of life that many a farmer thinks he is better off getting 10 cents more than his neighbor than if he and his neighbor both got the same price but 25 cents more," he continued.

"It is estimated that the gain in price through the regional merger could pay off all of the co-op plant investments in one year. A-5 cents per hundred-weight plant investment could easily pay back the equities of present co-op members in less than 10 years and make plants more efficient in the process."

McWilliams said that people who ask why Wisconsin dairy farmers should let southern dairymen run their business must have gotten a "D" in arithmetic.

"If we put together all the Federal order markets in Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Mississippi, we have a grand total of 7,119 producers," he said. "That's less than half of the 16,355 in the Chicago regional order. Looking ahead, where do you think the new Grade A producers are going to come from?"
